STAND with the PRESIDENT

President Obama has called for health care reform in 2009 that upholds three core principles. It must:

1. Reduce Costs – Rising health care costs are crushing the budgets of governments, businesses, individuals, and families, and they must be brought under control.
2. Guarantee Choice – Every American must have the freedom to choose their plan and doctor – including the choice of a public insurance option.
3. Ensure Quality Care for All – All Americans must have quality and affordable health care.

I support President Obama's three principles for real health care reform, and I call on Congress to enact a plan upholding them in 2009:
